

Sullivan County, N. Y., leaving probably some time to-day.

One of Commissioner Waldo's first official acts was to revoke the appointments of the forty-eight patrolmen who, Mr. Crosey said, were illegally appointed by Mr. Crosey. Mr. Waldo will ask the Civil Service Commission to re-submit their eligibility list of eighty-six names to him, and from that will make the appointments, following the letter of the law. It is understood that the new list of eighty-six names from the Civil Service Commission will contain the names of the forty-eight men whose appointments were revoked yesterday, and they will therefore have a chance at reappointment along with some of those who were passed over by Mr. Crosey.

Mr. Crosey's statement bearing on this point said:

My sole object in appointing men as patrolmen was to keep out of the department as far as possible improper men and to elevate the standard of the entire force. The only men on the list whom I passed either failed to appear or were rejected by the police surgeons, or were rejected because they had made false statements in their applications for appointment, or had bad records from their former employers or in the neighborhood in which they live, and in addition three or four names were passed over because of the investigation by this department had not been completed as to them.

At the time I directed that a record be made showing a reason for the rejection of every candidate, and a brief statement of those reasons, together with a list of the men rejected, was sent by my direction to the Municipal Civil Service Commission. To appoint on the force men who had made false and perjured statements in their application for appointment would seem to me to be merely placing a premium on dishonesty, and among other things which I have attempted to do while Commissioner.

HOW TO ACQUIRE HEALTH AND BEAUTY

BEAUTY LOTION—To whiten and refine a dark, rough skin apply to it and rub gently until dry a lotion made by dissolving four ounces of alum in one pint of water, then adding two teaspoonfuls of glycerine. This inexpensive lotion will clear and smooth the skin, making it charming and beautiful without giving that powdered look. It does not show or rub off like powder and is much better to use. It is splendid for removing that shiny, greasy look and protects the complexion from sun and wind.

DESTROY DANDRUFF—Perhaps no other remedy so far discovered has given such wonderful results in eradicating dandruff as the source of heat and steam troubles as the following simple preparation: Mix together one ounce of salicylic acid, one-half ounce of alcohol, one-half pint of water. By rubbing this into the scalp twice a week, dandruff disappears as if by magic and the hair stops falling out immediately. For stopping falling hair and promoting a healthy growth of glossy hair it is unsurpassed.

SMOOTH SATINY SKIN—To have a smooth, clear, velvety complexion use the following preparation: Stir together and allow to stand over night before using one ounce of alcohol, two teaspoonfuls of glycerine and one-half pint of water. This inexpensive cream-lotion contains nothing to cause a growth of hair on the face. It is better than any other skin cream for removing blackheads, wrinkles, freckles and skin roughness.

HOME-MADE BLOOD TONIC—To free the blood of impurities which cause pimples, sallowness and a drowsy, tired feeling there is no better remedy than this delicious old-fashioned household tonic. Dissolve one-half cup sugar and one ounce of potassium permanganate in one-half pint of water to make a full quart. A tablespoonful of this inexpensive tonic taken three times a day will purify the blood, clear the skin and give one renewed energy and an ambition to work. It is fine for curing a sluggish liver and taking up the system from a run-down condition.

THE NEW AND OLD POLICE COMMISSIONERS

RHINELANDER WALDO

Who quit as Fire Commissioner to head the police force. (Photograph, copyright, by Pash Brothers.)

Commissioner Waldo has been to eradicate untruthfulness from the force. I will gladly welcome any investigation into the reasons for passing any of the men whom I passed.

In explaining his reasons for taking issue with the Mayor in regard to the promotions, particularly with respect to the creation of inspectors, Mr. Crosey said he believed the number of inspectors should be still further reduced.

They have comparatively little work to do," he said, referring to the inspectors. "Especially since the matter of looking after gambling and disorderly houses has been taken out of their hands and attended to directly from headquarters."

The outgoing Commissioner also expressed himself strongly on the need for economy in regard to police captains, and quoted figures to show that many precincts in which there was something around or less than a score of patrolmen were supplied with captains, which he deemed an unnecessary waste of the city's money.

Told Mayor He Would Quit.

The need of additional lieutenants and sergeants is even less than the need of additional captains and inspectors," said Mr. Crosey. "I realized months ago that this was not in accordance with the wishes of the Mayor, and so when he referred to this matter again in connection with the appointment of patrolmen which has been referred to, I told him I would certainly not be any embarrassment to him and that I would resign so that he might have the promotions made."

Mr. Crosey's statement went on to say that there had been "other matters" concerning which he and the Mayor had not been in accord, but he would not go into details.

From the tone of Mr. Crosey's statement it was easy to infer that his exit from the department, though in a measure forced upon him by the Mayor's reception of the Croseyman complaint, was also due, and in a large measure, to his own independent stand upon these questions concerning which issue arose between himself and the Mayor who appointed him.

As an indication of the smooth work that may be expected of the new machinery installed in Centre street yesterday by the Mayor, Commissioner Waldo's first verbal order to Chief Clerk Kip was that he should furnish him as quickly as possible with the eligible lists for promotions.

The new Commissioner was no more than installed in his office than he announced his intention of promoting, as soon as possible, five captains to be inspectors, twelve lieutenants to be captains, thirty-two sergeants to be lieutenants and twenty-seven patrolmen to be sergeants. Another order which will make for the new Commissioner's popularity in the department was that hereafter policemen shall be paid upon the first of the month, instead of on the 10th, as heretofore.

Second Police Job for Waldo.

Waldo's present connection with the Police Department in his second experience of that nature, as he was for a time First Deputy Commissioner under General Theodore A. Bingham. He took with him to Police Headquarters as his private secretary Winfield Sheehan, who served him in the same capacity at Fire Headquarters. Mr. Sheehan qualified for the job by charter provision, treasurer of the police pension fund, and in this capacity a $160,000 bond is required of him. The filing of the bond is a necessary part of the qualification for the office, and the details of that transaction were not completed last night, but will be to-day.

Mayor Gaynor's official announcement of the appointment of Mr. Waldo was contained in a copy of his letter to him, which was given out for publication. In this the Mayor highly commended the work of Mr. Waldo as Fire Commissioner and took occasion to compare that work with the doings of Crosey as Police Commissioner, to the disparagement of the latter, particularly with respect to the appointments from the eligible lists. Stating that he, the Mayor, had recommended to his commissioners that such appointments be made in numerical order from the lists furnished by the Civil Service Commission, the Mayor continued:

You have forty-eight illegal appointments to immediately deal with in the Police Department. I have directed the chairman of the Civil Service Board to sit down with you about the matter. I want you to have ish from the Police Department, as you have from the Fire Department, even the appearance of appointments or promotions going by favoritism or purchase. There are a large number of vacancies to be filled by promotion. The delay in that respect has been against my judgment and wishes. Let that be one of the first things to be attended to, and I would like to be present and participate when the promotions are conferred.

There was some question raised concerning the legality of the O'Brien dismissal by Crosey, but this was dissipated by Commissioner Waldo's frank explanation that Mr. Crosey had officially promulgated O'Brien's dismissal at 10.30 o'clock, whereas his own appointment was not made before 11.30 o'clock in the morning.

William J. Flynn, formerly Second Deputy Police Commissioner, who had been mentioned as a possible successor to Crosey, re-entered the United States Secret Service yesterday and was ordered back to his old position as head of the New York district.

TAFT A BOY AT ZOO

She explained that the little girl, who was Doris Bixey, of No. 210 Riverside Drive, had asked her if the President was still alive, and when she told her he was feeding the animals, she slipped away from her to see him for herself.

The elephant house proved a strong attraction for Mr. Taft, and he spent some time feeding sugar to Luna and Gunda, and in return they did their best tricks without stint for him, and kept it up in sheer delight for some time after he passed on to other attractions. They stood on their heads and on their hind legs and on barrels, and plainly showed that they would have stood on anything else to please him, if it had been necessary.

The next things that delighted the President were the waiting mice. It took him some time to get his eyes focused down to them after looking at the elephants, for the little waiters are about as big as your thumb, in the first place, and, in the next place, they keep whirling around like mad.

President's Command Ignored.

"Ladies, change," the President said, after watching them for some minutes. But waiting mice have ways of their own when it comes to dancing, and they kept right on in their own way, regardless of the mighty one who had commanded them to change.

Royal pythons are out of the ordinary line of Presidential experiences, but Mr. Taft learned something about them yesterday when he showed him the 24-foot specimen in the reptile house that weighs 200 pounds. The President became deeply interested in the monster when he was told that it was fed a 75-pound pig at a time, which went down whole and remained visible in its snake-skin for three days. He was told that it took a week for the snake to digest its meal, and that it took dinner only once in two months.

Many more wonders in the way of lions and bears and sulky tigers were shown to the President, who couldn't see enough in the time at his disposal. He smiled and laughed and asked questions that would have done justice either to an inquiring naturalist or a delighted "kiddy."

"This is very interesting," he said. "I should like to come up here and spend a whole day. I am delighted with my visit. It has given me a great deal of enjoyment."

When he was told by Madison Grant, chairman of the executive committee of the society, that it would take at least three days to make a complete tour of all the sights, he expressed the wish that he might some time have an opportunity to do so.

Makes Auto Tour of Park.

The visit to the animals was followed by an automobile tour of the park, and the President came back to Manhattan to dine at the home of Mr. Cadwalader, at No. 3 East 56th street. The other guests were Mr. and Mrs. George L. Rivers, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carnegie, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Cass Lodge, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hastings, Lady Hamilton, Mrs. Cadwalader Jones, Dr. John S. Billings, Archbishop Farley, Senator Bacon, Attorney General Wickersham, Mayor Gaynor, Henry W. Taft, Secretary Hillis and Major Butt.

The President left the Cadwalader house at 11.30 o'clock. His train left the Pennsylvania Station for Washington at 12.05 this morning.

DIAZ'S LAST DAY AS PRESIDENT OF MEXICO

Will Resign This Afternoon if the Plans Are Not Changed.

MANY OFFICIALS TO GO

Retiring President Will Go in State to Chamber of Deputies—Plans to Leave Mexico Soon.

Mexico, City, May 23.—President Diaz, according to present plans, will present his resignation to the Chamber of Deputies to-morrow afternoon. He will go to the Chamber accompanied by the famous Presidential Guards, and the ceremonies when his long tenure of office ends will be most impressive.

Vice-President Corral's resignation also will be transmitted to the Chamber to-morrow.

Just before the resignation of the President is expected all the members of the Cabinet, with the exception of the Minister of Foreign Relations, Señor de la Barra, will resign.

It was officially announced to-night that, with the exception of the Department of Justice, the new Cabinet will be as follows:

Finance—ERNESTO MADERO. Interior—EMILIO VASQUEZ GOMEZ. Instruction—DR. FRANCISCO VASQUEZ GOMEZ. Colonization and Industry—MANUEL CALLEJO. War—General EUGENIO RABON. Communications—MANUEL BONILLA. Foreign Relations—Señor de la Barra. LONE CABALLA Y ROSAS.

Rafael Hernandez Madero probably will be the Minister of Justice. He was suggested by Francisco I. Madero, Jr., who is his cousin. This will give the Madero family two Cabinet members. Ernesto Madero being an uncle of the insurgent leader.

Wishing to show their respect for the retiring President, the members of the diplomatic corps, through the dean, Henry Lane Wilson, American Ambassador, requested the President to fix a time when it would be agreeable for him to receive them.

Through Señor de la Barra, General Diaz expressed his appreciation of their courtesy and said that he would name a date later.

Just when General Diaz will leave Mexico is not known, but it is certain that not many days will elapse between his resignation and his departure. With him will go his entire family, including his son, Porfirio Diaz, Jr. It had been thought that he would go to France, but to-day the French Legation, acting on the request of the French colony, asked its government to place a cruiser at the general's disposition. There is one now at Jamaica.

Should the rebels retain control of the Mexican Railway, the retiring President would be forced to reach Vera Cruz over the interoceanic, in which case it would be impossible for him to use the Presidential train, which has standard gauge equipment.

Plan Reception for Madero.

Adherents of Madero discussed at a public meeting to-night the character of the reception they would give their chief on his arrival at the capital. Details were not determined, but it is certain that his entry will be brilliant.

Notwithstanding the official signing of the peace pact, the capital is more nearly isolated to-night than it has been at any other time since hostilities began. Ignorant, apparently, that their commander in chief has brought the war to a close, one small band of rebels under the leadership of General Navarro, last night cut the National Railroad south of San Luis Potosi, and another band stopped traffic over the Mexican Railroad by burning a bridge near Huamantla.

Believing that the rebels in Morelos would interfere with traffic over the Cuernavaca branch of the National Railroad, the management sent no trains south to-day. The train which should have arrived from Cuernavaca was abandoned at the order of Governor Alarcon, the rebel executive of Morelos.

Traffic was operated out of Mexico City to-night is the interoceanic, a narrow gauge railroad extending to Vera Cruz. The land wires, which connect the capital with the cable at Vera Cruz, have also been cut again.

Revival of Rebel Activity.

This revival of rebel activities was not regarded as meaning necessarily that the insurgents will refuse to abide by the terms of the peace treaty. The armistice ended yesterday, and it is believed not impossible that there are hundreds and possibly thousands of rebels scattered in the hills who have not learned yet that the country is officially at peace.

The motive for the cutting of the Mexican Railway may be found in the fact that a troop train was carrying soldiers toward the capital. Unconfirmed reports to-night are that these delayed soldiers have detained at Huamantla and engaged a body of rebels in battle. The Mexican Legation asserted, however, that the Railroad is an English property which, until now, has been little molested.

In government circles almost every one believes that a peaceful solution of all difficulties is at hand. Unofficially this optimism is not so apparent. Within the last seven days the federal garrison has been greatly strengthened, and the revolutionaries asserted, however, that the capital would now be a difficult task.

From Cuernavaca came the disquieting report that General Navarro would not agree to stop fighting unless the Cabinet chosen should be acceptable to them. It is also alleged that General Navarro and his chief lieutenant, Asunsolo, are not in thorough accord, and that Asunsolo has incurred the animosity of Zapata, the captain of the revolution, who has branded as a bandit. It is not impossible that the forces of Zapata in the hills and those of Asunsolo in Cuernavaca may yet come in conflict.

From Tampico comes the news that Sam Houston, an American, was killed at the Hacienda Los Planos, near Valle de Ariz. His body was mutilated. Americans there have reported the case to Washington.

CHINESE MINISTER PROTESTS

Calls Murder of His Countrymen to Mexico's Attention.

Washington, May 23.—In response to urgent appeals from Chinese colonies in Mexico, Chang Ying Tang, the Chinese Minister here, has again instructed his chargé d'affaires at Mexico City to make a strong protest to the Mexican government against the massacre of his countrymen at Torreon. Mexico will be asked to give adequate protection to Chinese subjects within her borders.

Advices were received by the minister from Chinese sources and by the State Department from Mr. Carothers, the consular agent at Torreon, saying that 200 Chinese were killed in the riot. The revolutionaries asserted, however, that the Chinese had been armed by the federal general and had fired on the insurgents, forcing from many places Mr. Carothers's dispatch was sent May 19, but was delayed in transmission. At that time order had been restored and the remainder of the Chinese were being protected. Americans had not been molested.

FLORIDA AND INCOME TAX.

Tallahassee, Fla., May 23.—The income tax amendment to the Federal Constitution probably will fail of ratification at the present session of the Florida Legislature. The Senate to-day again postponed consideration of it for one week on advice of the special committee which is investigating the legal status of the present Legislature.

MADERO HEARS DIAZ WILL RESIGN TO-DAY

Insurgent Leader Not to Start for Mexico City Before Sunday.

SCOFFS AT RUMORS OF PLOTS

Refuses Armed Guard on Journey—Works in Harmony with De la Barra—Corral Out of Office.

Torreon, Mex., May 23.—Confidential advices to the insurgent leaders here are to the effect that the resignation of President Diaz will be presented to the Mexican Congress to-morrow. It is not expected that it will be accepted before Saturday, and Madero is not planning to start for Mexico City before Sunday.

News that Vice-President Corral's resignation had been tendered was received to-day.

Madero is just beginning to realize the strength of the revolutionary movement he created. Telegrams have been pouring in at his headquarters for the last few days congratulating him on the success of the revolution and saying that hundreds of men are at his disposal for further instructions. The messages are from all parts of Mexico, including the southern and central portions.

Talk of a counter revolution was heard again to-day, accompanied by rumors of plots by the Cientifico party in Mexico City. The promoters have been pouring in at his headquarters for the last few days congratulating him on the success of the revolution and saying that hundreds of men are at his disposal for further instructions. The messages are from all parts of Mexico, including the southern and central portions.

Some of Madero's friends think he should take at least two hundred armed men with him, but the leader himself scoffs at the idea, saying he will have only a civilian escort. It is probable, however, that a pilot locomotive will precede the Madero train to watch for dynamite bombs or other impediments.

To Suppress Brigandage.

An indication that Madero already is working in close harmony with Señor de la Barra is the frequent exchange of messages. Madero was advised to-day, for instance, that an attack on Hermosillo was contemplated, and money was demanded because of strained relations between the federal officers there and the revolutionaries. He at once communicated with Señor de la Barra about speedy relief for conditions there. Some active work for the insurgents, it is believed, is not far off. Reports are received frequently at Madero's headquarters of the ravages of bandits in the interior. Fortunata Heredia, a notorious bandit, is accused in a report which came to-day of robbing a mine owned by Tarrisa Brothers at San José de García, Sonora, of gold valued at $35,000.

Little is known of the return of General Reyes will have a disturbing effect in Mexico, he is held by Madero. He issued the following statement to-night, commenting on interviews with General Reyes at Havana: "The declarations of General Reyes made at Havana are extremely tranquilizing to those who saw in him danger to the public peace. I personally never entertained such fears, but it pleases me that he has expressed himself in such explicit terms, because he thus facilitates our work of pacifying the country and adds to our confidence."

REYES AGAINST UPRISING

Says Cientifico Party Caused All Mexico's Troubles.

Havana, May 23.—General Bernardo Reyes discredits the report of a Cientifico uprising in Mexico City against Madero.

"I am implacably opposed to such a movement," he said to-day. "The criminal tyranny of a faction, which in derision only is termed the Cientifico party, was one which roused the people of Mexico against the government and forced the uprising of General Francisco I. Madero. I, who have shed my blood for my country, can never join the ranks of those who have beyond measure exploited my country, and who are the cause of all the misfortunes which now afflict her. And if the people to which she is now exposed. To remove these evils and perils it is necessary and possible to reach a complete understanding and agreement among the same elements of the people, which cannot include members of this faction of evildoers."

José de Limonta, the Mexican Finance Minister, who once led the faction, and against whom a similar group revolted to work at his own discretion, thus expressed himself when endeavoring to install his latest and, of necessity, extemporaneous reforms in our political system. Asked whether the better elements in Mexico were sufficiently strong to carry out the work of reorganization, the general said:

"I have full confidence in them, for the leaders of the element I know to be inspired by the loftiest patriotic sentiments."

"NEWLY WEDS" CALL ON MAYOR

All Smiling After Mr. and Mrs. Webb's Visit to the City Hall.

Mayor Gaynor found time yesterday between appointing a new Police Commissioner and attending the opening of the new Public Library to receive his daughter Gertrude and W. Seward Webb, Jr., with whom she eloped a few days ago. So far as known, it was the first time the Mayor had seen his daughter since her marriage.

They were together with the Mayor for some time, and the youthful husband stepped into an anteroom while the Mayor talked for a few minutes with his daughter alone. When they left the Mayor escorted them to the outer door of the Mayor's suite and all were smiling. The young couple left the City Hall arm in arm. Mrs. Webb was dressed in a pretty blue serge tailor made gown and her husband wore blue serge and carried a light stick.
